HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT

Is already recommended by our leading physicians, as a tonic and a nutriment (ESPECIALLY ADAPTED TO LADIES) with the most satisfactory results. This beverage is extensively used where all spirituous liquors and ales are discarded, as it differs from all other malt, being ALMOST FREE FROM ALCOHOL, and therefore neither intoxicating nor irritating, as it contains MORE NUTRIMENT THAN PORTER, ALE, OR THE STRONGEST BEER.

Timber Lands

And Mill Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber, desirous of disposing of all his interest in Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following:

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand (26,000) acres; is heavily timbered with spruce, estimated at sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within near and easy hauling distance of the Magalloway river or its branches, which runs through the town, or Parmachena Lake, which is embraced within its limits.

Also 16,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co., well covered with large Spruce timber. Swift river and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in Town of Gorham, N. H.

two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from its proximity to the Railroad, is steadily increasing in value.

Also 2500 Acres Lands in the Towns of Albany and Stoneham.

near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. This land is covered with thrifty sapling Pine timber, standing near Crooked river, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked river can be run to Saccarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into the Saco. There is a good mill privilege, with a single saw mill on the tract; distance to the canal at Harrison ten miles; to the railroad at South Paris twelve miles. The land is valuable for settling purposes after being cleared of timber.

Also 435 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Steam Mill Company, the whole capital stock being represented by 527 shares. The property of the company consists of a Steam Saw Mill, capable of manufacturing five million feet of long lumber, with a proportionate amount of clapboards, shingles and laths. About fifteen acres land in the city of Lewiston, well located for building purposes, and thirty thousand acres of timber land, well located on the Androscoggin river and its branches, from which but a small quantity of the timber has been cut.

Or, LYNCH, BARKER & CO.
Portland, Aug. 11, 1869. aug17 1eff

To Albert W. Paine, Esq., one of the Justices of the Peace, in and for the County of Penobscot.

THOMAS P. PINGREE, EBENEZER S. COE and JAMES N. CHANDLER, trustees under the will of the late DAVID PINGREE of Salem, deceased, represent that they are owners of five undivided eighths of certain saw-mills situate in Milford, in said County, near the East end of the Bangor, Oldtown and Milford Railroad bridge, consisting of two blocks, being same formerly owned in common by said Pingree deceased and the late Benjamin Fiske, the other three-eighths, as your petitioners believe, being still owned by all or a part of the heirs of said Fiske, none of whom reside in this State, that repairs are necessary upon all said mills as your petitioners believe.

The undersigned trustees aforesaid therefore request you to call a meeting of the owners of said mills to be holden at Bangor in said County at the office of E. S. Coe, on Saturday the nineteenth day of February next at ten o'clock in the forenoon to see what they will do relative to making such repairs, to decide what repairs shall be made and to provide means for making and paying for the same.

Witness our hands at said Bangor, on this twenty second day of January, in the year eighteen hundred seventy.

THOMAS P. PINGREE.
E. S. COE.
JAS. N. CHANDLER.

[L. S.] PENOBSCOT, ss. January 22, 1870.
To the several owners of the saw mills described in the foregoing petition:

You are hereby notified of the wishes of the above named petitioners, as expressed in the foregoing petition, and that a meeting of all the owners of said mills will be held at the time and place, and for the purposes named in said application, and you may then and there be present, if you see fit.

Witness my hand and seal at said Bangor, on the day and year above mentioned.

Tavern Stand for Sale.

The well known stand called the "American House" in Ellsworth is offered for sale. The location is the best in the city, and the patronage bestowed upon it has always been liberal, and the business must of necessity increase in the future. To one acquainted with the business, and who is disposed to accommodate the public, no better chance offers. The reason of selling is, I have been in the business long enough.

If the house is not sold, it will be closed as a public house after the 1st of December, until further notice.

Beaudry's
IMPROVEMENT IN SAW MILL MACHINERY,
(Patented in the United States and Canada.)

Is one of the most important inventions of the age and its superiority is incontestable. Its application to Mills running gangs of saws simplifies the construction, yields increased power and speed, and thereby adds to the capacity of a Mill from twenty-five to one hundred per cent. An operating model can be seen at the office of the undersigned, who is empowered to sell rights, and make agreements for altering, or putting up machinery.

EVENING DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Important Decision.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

The case of Aopburn vs. Griswold, brought from the Court of Appeals of Ky., involving the legal tender law, was decided in the United States Supreme Court to-day. Chief Justice Chase delivered the opinion of the Court sustaining the decision of the Court below and holding that a contract made before the legal tender law, could not be discharged in United States notes. The opinion discussed at great length the power of Congress. It holds that Congress had no right to make Government notes a legal tender for pre-existing private debts. It does not touch the question of contracts made since the law was passed. This opinion was concurred in by Justices Nelson, Clifford and Field. Justice Miller delivered the minority opinion concurred in by Justices Swayne and Davis, holding the law entirely constitutional, treating it principally as an incident to the war power.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

Gerge P. Washington, who claims to be a nephew of Gen. Washington, was robbed while riding on a 6th avenue car, Saturday, of a gold watch, an old fashioned, white faced stem winder. The watch is a relic.

Jack Reynolds, the 5th ward murderer, who told so many stories about himself, now turns out to be Sylvester Breen. Capt. Petty of the police having received a letter from Cherry Valley, Mass., where Breen's family reside, giving a full description of the notorious culprit. The prisoner manifested the utmost uneasiness at the bringing forth of facts.

It is reported that John Real, sentenced to death for murder, but whose case is yet in abeyance, is nearly dead with consumption from long confinement.

Mrs. Joanna Winter was robbed of $900 on Saturday, the hard earnings of two years.

Two men were arrested late Saturday afternoon for robbing Peter Tonan's dry goods store fifteen months ago of property valued at $600. The property was found in their possession.

The arrests for the week were 1280.

A member of the Tammany General Committee, William Shakey, is under arrest on the charge of stealing two five hundred dollar gold certificates.

The Times has the following:—"The Mormon Mission is being pushed forward with all the vigor and energy possessed by its leaders in the vicinity of Freeport, Patchogue, Rockville Centre and Hempstead. During the latter part of the week the most favorable accounts of Gen. Burton's work have reached the saints in Williamsburg, but their latter enterprise in the neighborhood of Riverhead has not been crowned with the success anticipated. Freeport, the centre of operations of Burton and his colleagues, has only given them twelve converts who were Mormon backsliders, reached by the presence of the bishop and elders. Still the work is carried on there with unremitted perseverance.—Meetings and preaching are held and heard three times a day, and the hope of success has fixed itself steadfastly in the breasts of the brethren everywhere. To aid the Mission more preachers have been sent from Utah.—They are looked for daily. The elders and priests are travelling and preaching in the market places and on the highways in every village and town situated within a circuit of 70 miles of Freeport, though not altogether successfully. At Riverhead last week we hear that some of them who held forth in the Court House were rather coldly received, in consequence of which they left. Better things are hoped for by the latter day saints in Williamsburg yesterday, at that place the services were well attended and Elder Jackson of Utah presided upon the message sent by God to Joseph Smith.

BURNED TO DEATH.

SANDWICH, Mass., Feb. 7.

Bridget, wife of Terrence Maley, was burned to death yesterday, Sunday, morning.—Coroner Chapman has summoned a Jury for an inquest. The husband is missing since the occurrence.

TERRIBLE STORM.

WILMINGTON, Feb. 5.

Last night one of the most terrible storms ever experienced here visited this neighborhood. Thus far four marine disasters are reported off the coast all yesterday. The schooner Eleanor, from Baltimore, with a cargo of fertilizers, went ashore a few miles from Fort Fisher and immediately went to pieces. Five men, supposed to have been the entire crew, were lost. When the vessel broke up these five men were seen clinging to portions of the wreck, but in a few moments all were washed off by a heavy sea and lost. The other three vessels were the schooners Samuel C. Sehorn, Race and Rayal with cargoes of corn consigned to the merchants here. Hopes are entertained of saving some of the cargo of the latter. It is feared the gale of last night has caused a fearful loss of lives and vessels.

CABLE NEWS.

Paris, Feb. 6. Gen. Hague left yesterday for Panama to conduct explorations for the new Darien Canal Company.

Thompson & Van Choate, Agents for the American Cable Company, have returned from Hague with a concession for landing a cable from the Dutch Government.

STEAMSHIP SOLD AT AUCTION.

BOSTON, Feb. 7.

Steamship Ontario was sold at auction today for $25,000 to satisfy the claims of bondholders and was purchased by J. W. Balch and Nathan Crowell.

THE McFARLAND TRIAL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

Judge Bedford of the Court of General Sessions to-day, denied the motion to transfer the trial of McFarland to the Court of Oyer and Terminer. The trial will commence March 7th.

At the funeral of Noir, Henri Rochefort and Louis Noir walked behind the hearse, and every minute the cry of "Vive Rochefort!" was raised by thousands of voices, and those nearest him rushed up and seized his hands. He looked utterly worn out. His clothes were bespattered, his eye was bloodshot, his face livid. It was evident that his nervous energy was greatly overtaxed. At last he was obliged to sit down on the step at the back of the hearse. Then he was seen to put his hands to his head, and at last he fainted dead away. The movement of the moving army was with difficulty arrested, finally a way was made, and Rocefort was carried to an apothecary's shop, where, the doors and windows being immediately barricaded by the owner, he received every care that he needed, and in about a quarter of an hour returned to the funeral. This is the precise story of M. Rochefort's fainting away.

JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1870.

Now that the 15th amendment has been ratified, and will soon be proclaimed as a part of the Constitution, there will be a great fluttering and somewhat of a turning-over in the Democratic party They will now hastily fall in love everywhere with the much despised black vote They will hasten to eat their own words and recognize the power of the new citizen. They will no longer hate him, in fact, they will appear in the successful role of 'his best friend," and the farce will be agreeably played. They will play it for the reason that it is an absolute necessity to conciliate this element in order to hold what power they already have Nearly a million of negroes will be given the ballot by this amendment, the larger part of whom are in the old rebellious States. The Democratic States of the South have enough colored voters to swamp their party if the colored men vote as they naturally would.—Kentucky has about 47,000, Maryland 34,000, Delaware 4,500 of such new voters But the most interest will attach to some of the closely contested States of the North. New York we believe has about fifteen thousand colored voters, who, besides those, now vote under the State restriction New Jersey has five or six thousand Both these States are now Democratic, but in order to continue so it is quite evident from the average majorities of the past few years that they must secure this negro vote Connecticut must be unquestionably Republican under the operation of this amendment, and Ohio must be more surely Republican than ever when it removes the odious prejudice against "visible admixture' So of several other States It is quite clear that the colored vote is to be an important element in our politics

The Democratic leaders will now suddenly find they have made a mistake They have stoutly persisted in abusing the colored men because they have held the idea that they would be able to defeat the amendment It is rather a surprise to them that they have failed, and that now they have to lift their heels from the necks of those they have so long ridden and oppressed They will now find that their political power is more rapidly than ever vanishing, and we must look for desperate efforts on their part to secure what they have thrown away. But it will be a difficult and impossible task to obliterate their obnoxious record so as to make their political action in this respect otherwise than repulsive They are doomed by the amendment to fresh disasters

The Democratic papers may forget to publish the statement that a member of the Tammany general committee in New York is under arrest as a common thief—not because they desire concealment, but because such news is so common as to be stale The significance of this little bit of news is all the greater for a joke that is almost simultaneously perpetrated by the World That nice journal says "The Democrats could not do a wiser thing than to begin in this city competitive examinations for civil officers and thus help to purge our politics of the corruption which pervades them." Hoffman also joins in advising his "friends" to "purge" the Legislature of extravagance and corruption Jim, the stable boy in the story, said that when a travelling exhorter showed the whites of his eyes and talked much to him of honesty he 'put his eyes onto him,' and his sagacity was correct, for when the gentleman was gone so were several of his mistress' valuables So when any Tammany chief preaches about the sin of corruption and promises honesty in administration, it is safe to "put your eyes onto" them. They mean business in their line and the legitimate succession is a deluge of legislative jobs, ring swindles, and private theft.

While the Spaniards were indulging in their loudest boasts of prowess and conquest in Cuba, the Cubans were organizing to teach them a lesson in the art of war of which they knew little They have in fact met their most disastrous defeat just at a time when they have told the world that they have destroyed all opposition. We are likely to hear of stirring affairs there under the new order of things—Gen Jordan appears to be a much more efficient leader than Gen Quesada. Gen. Jordan was born in Virginia, and was graduated at West Point. He served for nearly twenty years in our regular army, was an officer of the Southern Confederacy throughout the war, serving on the staff of Beauregard in Virginia and Tennessee, taking part in the defence of Charleston against Gilmore and doing much other active work. After the close of the war he became editor of a Memphis paper which he left in less than a year and came to this city, where he indulged for a time in literary pursuits, furnishing articles to the magazines and newspapers writing a book on the campaign of the rebel cavalry leader Gen Forrest, and making translations of novels from the French Immediately after the outbreak of the Cuban insurrection he offered his services to President Cespedes, who appointed him to the work of organizing the Cuban army in its different arms He performed this duty skillfully, and now, after various changes, and after defeating the Spanish expedition under Puello, he has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Cuban troops He is a man of strong intellect and will, and of real military ability He will make the most of his material and opportunities, and the Spaniards will now find that they will have war in earnest and that the Cubans are not disposed to surrender all they have been fighting for.

TWO SHARP HITS AT THE DEMOCRACY The Norfolk (Va.) Day Book, which has been notorious for its fierce Southern and Democratic tone, administers the following very sharp reminder to its Northern fellow-partizans

"We suppose our Democratic friends throughout the country are somewhat amazed at the haste the people of Virginia have manifested in being reconstructed and and getting back into the Union under Republican auspices, but then they should remember that we waited very patiently for nearly four years for them to oust the Republicans, and as they failed to do so at the last Presidential election our supply of patience gave out, and we had to 'reconstruct' without waiting four years longer for them."

It is nothing more than fair that the Northern Democrats who read the above extract—which they are not very likely to see in their own party papers—should have the privilege of seeing an equally truthful and more suggestive retort dealt out to the Southern Democracy. An Alabama Democrat of high position in his party, having written to U. S. Senator Warner of that State asking to be relieved from political disability, Senator Warner says in his reply:

"I am doing all I can to have the disabilities removed from all the people of the South, and hope for early success. Ultimate success is certain unless the intolerant, bitter spirit manifested by many of your prominent Democratic leaders and [illegible] shall serve to defeat the friends of a liberal, generous policy Whilst men are so frequently proscribed for loyalty, or color, or political opinions, it is hard to procure relief from disabilities incurred by rebellion. Toleration on your part (I mean by the Democratic party) will soon enable us to [illegible] all opposition to universal amnesty [illegible]

There is [illegible] the [illegible] Journal. At the close of the war the general disposition among the loyal people was to restore the late rebels to their full standing as citizens, to "forget and forgive," as soon as possible. Nothing but the revival of seditious and obstructive demonstrations to answer Andrew Johnson's mischievous incitements prevented the realization of this humane purpose long before this As to the present position of this matter it is accurately stated by Senator Warner The Democrats will have only themselves to blame if their political re instatement is not so rapid as they could have wished

LETTER FROM AUGUSTA

Plan for State Uniformity of School Books.

AUGUSTA, Feb 7 1870

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

Inasmuch as loose statements in regard to the proposition for State uniformity of text books have gone out, and it has been characterized as a scheme impracticable and visionary, I am lead to ask space in your columns for a brief outline of what is understood to be the real plan for securing uniformity which will be presented for legislative endorsement this winter

The aim is declared to be the relief of parents in some measure from the expense Committee from the perplexity, and the State from the imposition of the present system of furnishing school books I will not now enumerate the abuses and untoward results of the system nor the reasons which have pressed the whole Board of Education with a single exception to the conclusion that State uniformity alone will reduce classes in schools to a reasonable and proper number, but will begin the outline at once

The plan is, if I understand it for the Governor and Council to appoint a Commission of say seven competent men, not officially connected with the schools, whose duty it shall be to select such books from those published as they may deem best suited to our mixed, intermediate, and grammar schools—This selection shall be confirmed by the Governor and Council, and the publishers of the books selected shall give sufficient bonds that they will in no case sell to the trade of the State for more than certain prices fixed and agreed upon, that towns may retain books introduced under the present five years law for the term of their introduction, on condition that they supply all incomers with books free of expense, and that changes to books other than those selected by the Commission, shall be made under penalty It is claimed that this simple enactment will not hurt any interest, or dam the channels of any trade in the State of Maine, that it will relieve book sellers from the disadvantage of varying prices, and the necessity of keeping several series of books in store to meet the demands of the trade, that healthy competition will be continued, for there will be opportunity to bid for State patronage as often as there now is for town, and the market in other States will remain unchanged that the chances for corruption will be small for in order to do it not only the Commission but the Governor and Council must be bought that it will prevent variety in books as a matter of course, and multiplicity too, since the Commission would naturally select only such books from a large series as are sufficient and desirable.

CONSOLIDATION

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

The bill authorizing the consolidation of railroad corporations now pending before the Railroad Committee, is the most stupendous project ever sought to be accomplished in the Legislature since the separation It proposes in terms to provide a way for the consolidation of "any two or more railroad corporations of this State', that is, all the connecting railroads of the State into one monster corporation, a corporation that even now would represent some thirty or forty millions of dollars, and which in ten years would represent twice that sum The directors of the Maine Central and of the Portland & Kennebec Railroads have united their forces to promote the proposed enactment, and, it is said, have agreed upon terms of consolidation The union of two such large Companies combining in one six or eight millions of dollars, is of itself sufficiently objectionable and fraught with danger to the interests of the people, even if it never embraced any other railroad. But who does not see that such a union would be only a beginning, and that ultimately this new consolidated corporation would swallow all the railroads of the State? Indeed such are the provisions of the bill "Any two or more connecting railroads "may consolidate into one corporation" A corporation so powerful would inevitably dictate all future railroad legislation and all other legislation with which it might be pleased to meddle

The scheme is by no means a novelty It has been presented to several previous Legislatures, referred to Committee, discussed all without any expectation of being carried but simply to inure the public mind to the contemplation of its hideous features 'Vice is a monster of such hideous mien' &c It is now for the first time pressed in good earnest The Maine Central Railroad Company and Portland and Kennebec Railroad Company, heretofore at loggerheads, have joined hands, kissed and made friends and are now urging their combined strength to put it through The danger of success is great, and calls for all the friends of genuine democracy to bestir themselves What friend of equal rights is willing to see ten, twenty forty or eighty millions of dollars under the control of one man, or one combined set of men moving as if controlled by one mind? Yet no one have the stupidity to believe that the designs of the interested parties are to be accomplished by the provisions of the present bill alone This bill is but the beginning of mischief, and therein lies the danger that way madness lies Throw every possible guard into this bill, but let consolidation be once accomplished, then the fountain is created from which every evil consequence will flow A corporation of forty millions of dollars with an army of officials, stretching its long arms into every county, controlling the business of men in a point so vital as the means of locomotion, guided by one or a few leading minds, men of brains, wealth power experience and skill not all of them under the influence of Divine Grace will, in a few years, inevitably secure any desired legislation, unless human nature in Maine shall prove to be a very different thing from human nature in New York and other States Are the people of Maine ready to put themselves under guardianship during a perpetual minority? No they are not ready, but this kind of legislation may place them in that degraded condition sooner than they are aware If it required the indomitable will of Andrew Jackson to wage a successful war with the United States Bank with a capital of $35,000,000 in a contest against the Federal Government, what equal chances have the people of the single State of Maine in a contest with a corporation including $40,000,000 or $80,000,000

Members of the Legislature, your constituents will never pass a vote of thanks to you for the passage of this bill. They have read something of the baleful influence of such monster Railroad corporations in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the state of the Camden & Amboy. Maine does not covet the title of the State of Railroad Kings, or of the State of the Consolidated Maine Central and Portland & Kennebec Railroads. Then put your foot upon consolidation. Crush it in the egg. Do not wait to be enveloped in the slimy folds of a full grown Anaconda. Do not be [illegible] [illegible] consolidation shall always [illegible] [illegible]. Do not be [illegible]

wheedled by the silly provision that any future Legislature may enact laws 'to prevent abuses" Consolidation being once granted for all practical purposes future control is clean gone forever The consolidated company becomes the State "Abuses" which its sovereign will may consent to have corrected, will be corrected, and none other, and favors which it may desire to have granted will be granted You cannot new twist withes of sufficient strength to bind a future Samson This omnipotent body will prescribe laws for you not you for it

It is said that the friends of the bill, fearing for its fate, will prepare some new provisions to mitigate its bitterness Of course they will They will yield you any conceivable provision if you will grant them just one thing viz consolidation on any terms Consolidation of itself, they know full well will in the end grant them all the rest There is one amendment and one only that will make the bill satisfactory to the people, viz strike out every thing relating to consolidation, and insert if you please that consolidation shall under no circumstances be tolerated

Dexter Feb 5 1870 EQUALITY

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Some days since Senator Hamlin, who is Chairman of the Congressional Committee on the District of Columbia reported a bill appropriating $30,000 for the benefit of the poor of the District The debate which it brought out elicited facts showing a deplorable condition as the result of the singular relation which that part of the country bears to the general government Senator Sherman made a speech upon the subject which clearly shows an irregular state of affairs there which we quote as follows

[illegible]

Mr Hamlin—One half

Mr Sherman—One half [illegible]

[illegible]

Objection being made to the manner of distribution Mr Hamlin explained that the distributing agencies were [illegible] and proceeded to give statistics of the number of [illegible] persons and the [illegible] assistance [illegible]

[illegible]

Senator Morrill and many others debated the bill all being in favor of some provision for improvement

Mr Hamlin said that he was there [illegible] asking for charity not to make speeches but intimated that he should have something to say hereafter in regard to District affairs He warmly favors a reorganization of the District government on a territorial plan and will doubtless present a well matured measure to that end

The Charity bill was passed unanimously

INTEMPERANCE AND OPIUM EATING

Every article of the materia medica that is worth anything as a medicine has good as well as evil effects, according as it is used with care and discrimination or not This is preeminently the case with the two remedies so long fashionable with us—whiskey and opium Both are conceded to have great power when properly employed and both to be attended with bad results when not used with judgment and skill Whiskey is the greatest favorite of the two and the one which from the manner in which we use it in our prescriptions attended with the greatest ultimate harm There can be no question in the mind of any candid observer, that we are in the habit of using whiskey too largely and too thoughtlessly, and in view of this fact it becomes more to inquire into its evil than its good results upon the morals and health of the community We are unwitting educating the people into the belief that whiskey is nothing short of a panacea for almost every disease, and that the oftener they take the remedy the better off they will be No matter what else we may give the patient, he is pretty sure to be told that he must not neglect to take his whiskey—a piece of advice which is not often unheeded Very seldom if ever is any particular quantity named and the patient does not, in consequence, regard strictly in the light of a medicine but more as an article of diet, which can be used more or less largely, according to his own discretion The physician who is accustomed to give his patients a loose line in this particular should not, nay, must not, lose sight of the grave responsibility which he takes His eyes should be open to the melancholy truth that he is sanctioning, nay, actually encouraging, ultimate intemperance There are no means of ascertaining how many confirmed drunkards are annually given to the community as the direct and immediate result of physicians' prescriptions, but the conclusion is unavoidable that the number is very great. How can it be otherwise? A person with any appetite whatever for spirituous liquors, requires no better encouragement to indulge his propensities than that it benefits his health by so doing, while one without any appetite in the beginning, is pretty sure to find one before he is called upon to stop his tonic. In either case, the habit of tippling is too apt to be kept up long after the physician has any call for his advice. No one [illegible] that the majority even of such cases terminate in being notorious drunkards, and in the end dying from absolute inebriety. On the contrary, with the upper classes, this is the exception; but what is almost as bad, the habit of tippling is engendered, which, being persisted in, perhaps for years, [illegible] Very much [illegible]

reference to opium. The habit of taking this drug is so frequently the result of the prescription of a physician, that it may be considered the rule Here, too, thoughtlessness on the part of the prescriber is at the bottom of the trouble He is perfectly right in giving the opium to relieve pain and to produce sleep, but he does a very wrong thing when he allows his patient to know the article he is taking and the dose The class of chronic patients to whom opium is given for any length of time are, as a rule, peculiarly fretful and obnoxious to pain Everything with them is secondary to the relief from suffering and allow them to know that opium, in one or other of its preparations, is the remedy for their case, and it will be useless to prevent them from prescribing for themselves whenever they suffer from the slightest unpleasant sensation We know, however, that some physicians allow even a greater latitude—use no more discretion in prescribing opium for a patient than they would in recommending the same quantity of whiskey—that is to say, they give them virtually a free license to use opium whenever they may be inclined so to do When this is done, very little is needed with most temperaments to confirm a habit which, generally speaking, is the hardest of all to break No physician needs be told that the inevitable result of the practice is a gradual increase in dose and that the poor victims will obtain the drug in the very face of the most stringent laws against the sale of poison Each apothecary's establishment has its own particular set of customers for the article and it is impossible to turn them empty away [illegible] numerous are the opium-eaters that it would be safe to say that they can be found not only in every city and town, but in every village and hamlet throughout the country and when the profession contemplates the fact that the vast majority of these have commenced the practice with a prescription [illegible] only to reproach ourselves for what we have [illegible]

Consumption.

The Three Remedies SCHENCK S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds Bronchitis and every form of Consumption The peculiar action of this medicine ripens the ulcers in the lungs promotes the discharge of the corrupt matter by expectoration purifies the blood, and thus cures Consumption when every other remedy fails

"SCHENCK S SEA WEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, and all diseases arising from debility This tonic invigorates the digestive organs supplies the place of the gastric juice when that is deficient, and then enables the patient to digest the most nutritious food It is a sovereign remedy for all cases of indigestion

"SCHENCK S MANDRAKE PILLS," one of the most valuable medicines ever discovered being a vegetable substitute for calomel and having all the useful properties ascribed to the mineral without producing any of its injurious effects.

To these three medicines Dr J H Schenck of Philadelphia owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Pulmonic Consumption The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter, discharges it, and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove all obstructions therefrom, give the organs a healthy tone, and cures Liver Complaint, which is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption. The Sea-weed Tonic invigorates the powers of the stomach, and by strengthening the digestion and bringing it to a normal and healthy condition improves the quality of the blood, by which means the formation of ulcers or tubercles in the lungs becomes impossible. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained will cure every case of Consumption, if the remedies are used in time, and the use of them is persevered in sufficiently to bring the case to a favorable termination.

FORTY FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.

SENATE

Mr Morton presented the resolutions of the Georgia Legislature, accepting the conditions [illegible] indorsed by Congress by changing the State constitution, and also ratifying the 14th and 15th amendments to the United States constitution

Mr Terry remarked that an inquiry had already been directed to be made whether the present Legislature of Georgia was the legally organized body

Mr Edmunds said the present investigation of the Committee would embrace that question

Petitions favorable to an additional amendment to the Constitution, giving women the right to vote were presented by Messrs Conkling and Fenton

Mr Semmes, from the Com on pensions made a report upon various petitions from the soldiers of the war of 1812, for a change of the law by which they may be entitled to pensions He stated that the weight of our taxation caused by the payment of pensions to disabled soldiers was so great that in the opinion of the committee the government would not be justified in enlarging the pension list for men not disabled

Bills were introduced by Mr Trumbull the more effectually to provide for the execution of the laws for the protection of the owners of trade marks

By Mr Pomeroy to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia.

By Mr Howard requiring the Postmaster General to report by whom the draft of petitions for the abolition of the franking privilege was prepared, when where and by whose orders and at whose expense such petitions were printed and circulated, with the cost of the same, also to communicate the facts upon which the allegations of fraud and abuse in the exercise of said franking privilege were founded

Mr Thayer objected, when Mr McDonald from the Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads reported favorably and without amendment the bill to encourage the establishment of a line of steamships under the flag of the Union for the conveyance of the United States mails to European and Asiatic ports, for promoting emigration from Europe and for reducing the rates of ocean postage

Mr Howard from the Committee on the Pacific Railroads, reported with amendment the bill to amend the act of July 27th, 1866, granting lands to aid in construction of railroads from Missouri and Kansas to the Pacific coast by the Southern route

Mr Chandler from the Committee on Commerce, reported the bill with amendments amendatory to the act fixing certain rules and regulations for preventing collisions on [illegible]

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

HAVANA, Feb. 7

Yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, four Americans, Isaac Greenwall, Henry K. Foster, Hugh Johnson and Gardiner Wells, all of New York, were on their way to visit a photograph gallery, intending to have their photographs taken, all wearing blue neck ties, and when near the Tacon Theatre were stopped by a man who pointed to their neck ties and addressed the men in an excited manner in Spanish and none of the party understanding the language no answer was returned.—The unknown man then took out a revolver and fired upon them and wounding three of them Greenwall, Foster and Johnson severely The two latter are in a precarious condition Wells who was unhurt, ran for his life A number of men followed and raised the cry of "stop him" but he escaped.—The wounded men were badly treated by the crowd which gathered around them. The man who fired the shots disappeared immediately after and it is not known whether he was a volunteer or not. The declarations of the parties and of witnesses to the affair are now being taken by legal authorities in the presence of the U. S. Consul General. The indignation of the Captain-General at the outrage is very great. He has called on the Chief Justice and other leading officers of the law to use every means to discover the perpetrator and abettors of the deed The people of all parties denounce the act and the officers of the volunteers are hunting for the assassin and his accomplices and the government has set the entire police force in motion De Rodas has offered a reward of $1000 for the arrest of the culpable parties, who, if found, will be tried by a drum head court martial and executed within two hours after the sentence is found The victims of this unfortunate affair arrived here from New York several weeks ago to open a [illegible] and perfumery factory for [illegible] & Kemp

The volunteers who took a prominent part in the recent disturbance at Matanzas have been arrested by order of the Capt General

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Feb 5.

A CONGRESSIONAL SCANDAL

The proposed investigation into the sale of appointments to Cadetships at West Point and at Annapolis by members of Congress causes quite a fluttering It is openly asserted that in the Fortieth Congress some six members from the Southern States sold to New Yorkers the appointments of the Cadetship to West Point for from $500 to $2000 apiece The requirement of the law was evaded by sending the candidate, immediately preceding his nomination, to the district of the member appointing him The Engineer's Bureau would then notify him by mail to appear for examination, and by receiving a reply to the same, the officer would be completely deceived as to the cadet's actual residence The last army register credits quite a number of young officers to States and Territories where their families never resided, but from which they managed to receive appointments

FINANCIERS PUZZLED

Senator Sherman's funding bill is evidently not understood by financiers, who are telegraphing to their agents here asking for construction of various sections of it. The most in doubt is the proposed mode of exchanging the old for the new bonds.

The dispatches say that if the National Banks have to sell their old bonds in open market before buying the new ones to bank on, that it will bring ruin to all parties Those who framed the law say that the exchange is to be made at the Treasury

THE FRANKING BILL IN THE SENATE

Senators are now importuned by Representatives not to pass the bill abolishing the free transmission of letters, newspapers and documents by mail, but there is a growing disposition in the Senate to take the House at its word and pass the bill Meanwhile, the petitions sent out by Postmaster General Cresswell are being returned, and in such numbers as to fill several columns of the Globe every day

ANTI-SUFFRAGE ORGANIZATION OF WOMEN

One of the Sunday papers says a number of ladies of high social position here, headed by the wife of Admiral Dahlgren contemplate the formation of a society for active opposition to the woman suffrage movement. It adds, that they believe suffrage would impose upon woman burdens and responsibilities she is unable to bear, and that the time has come when the whole sex should express its opinion in plain terms.

GEORGIA POLITICIANS ON HAND.

Quite a number of Georgia politicians are here Foster Blodgett and his friends representing Governor Bullock come to ask the restoration of the State, while Captain Bryant and his associates come to growl at General Terry and ask further legislation. Dr. Miller, one of the former senators elect, is also along to see what chance he has for getting a seat. The presence of all these parties will probably make things somewhat lively during the present week. The friends of [illegible] say that an election of senators is to be held next week, Tuesday [illegible]

[Written for the Whig & Courier.]
ELECTIONEERING IN 187—

"Come Sarah now bring me my hat
The one with the feather and vine,
With my new velvet jacket and gloves,
The polls will be opened at nine.

"Please button my boots,—here's the hook
These gloves are too small, I declare,
What's your number? they'll fit you, perhaps.
(The creature has paws like a bear!)

"If there ain't Lou Brown sailing by!
With her poor little husband in tow;
And a bag full of votes, I'll be bound,
To secure his election, you know,

"Now, my girl, just to think of that Brown
Put up for an office,—the guy!
With his eyes like a fish, and that nose!
Oh, Susan, the thought makes me cry.

"Compare him with dearest Augusta,
Who, you know, is the pink of perfection,
(Just see the jade simper and wink!
I'll dismiss her right after election.)

"I must hurry, for there's Sarah Jones
Shooting by like a well feathered rocket,
I must see her, the vulgar old soul.
For I know she's a vote in her pocket.

"Now, Susan, just put on the stew
For dinner, and then be on hand
At Ward 7, and—here is your vote.
And one for your friend Biddy Rand."

AGRICULTURE.

EARLY LAYING FOWLS. I have been experimenting for years to get fresh eggs early in the winter, and having succeeded to my satisfaction, I propose to give through the Rural my experience, that others may do likewise. I had been in the habit of keeping my fowls until they were three or four years old without a change, of either sex. Five or six years ago I commenced experimenting by changing my hens, putting the yearling pullets with a two-year old cock, also changing their food every week—first feeding corn, then buckwheat, then oats and cooked meal, giving them occasionally a little fresh meat. The corn seemed to be too hearty, and produced fat instead of eggs, while the buckwheat was very heating, the oats and cooked meal had nearly the same effect as the corn and buckwheat.

Last fall I commenced feeding corn in the morning, cooked Indian meal (warm) at noon, and buckwheat and oats mixed at evening, or just before roosting time. This feed I found to answer well—better than anything else—causing my hens to "shell out" prolifically from the first or middle of December, and keep it up without interruption all winter, through the coldest weather I gave them a pluck chopped fine once a week regularly, and plenty of pure fresh water. My fowls are always kept in a warm coop, with plenty of coal ashes to wallow in which is given them every other day. The hen manure is removed once in two or three weeks, and placed in barrels for use in my garden The manure more than pays me for all the trouble Mixed with compost it makes the best kind of fertilizer for my vines, trees and shrubs

I am still continuing my experiments this winter, and find it pays well, my hens keep perfectly healthy, and commenced laying on the 23d of November, and continue to "shell out" regularly daily All the change made is to place in the henery about half a peck of lime. I put my yearling pullets with a two-year old cock—six pullets to each cock —Cor. Rural New Yorker.

HOUSE PLANTS IN WINTER The Buffalo Express gives the following useful suggestions on the management of House Plants in winter.—

"The great obstacle to the health and beauty of house plants, kept in living rooms in winter, is the dryness and heat of the atmosphere in such rooms. This is a difficult matter to provide for. Many who love to beautify their homes with these cheerful pots cannot afford the expense of Wardian cases and other elaborate devices for providing a separate atmosphere for their plants A good substitute is made by setting the plants into a broad shallow box, and filling the space between the pots with moss. Then lay over all a smooth coat of moss, covering everything but the earth immediately around the plants in the pots The moss should then be kept moderately damp

"This arrangement not only adds much to the appearance of the plants—giving the effect of their growing directly from the bed of bright green moss—but the continual evaporation from the moss will impart a considerable degree of humidity to the air immediately surrounding the plants. If the box is lined with zinc, it adds very much to the durability In addition to any such arrangement, the leaves of the plants should be frequently washed or syringed

MUCK, ASHES AND PLASTER. I have noticed the inquiry from A. B., Kents Hill, about muck and plaster I have used muck different ways, but the best way, I have found is to mix it with unleached ashes, say about ten bushels of ashes, to a cord of muck, put up a laying of muck, and then a laying of ashes, in the fall, let it lay until the next spring, then shovel it over so as to get it well mixed, and then put it in the hill for potatoes. Manured in this way potatoes are not so liable to rot, as they are when barn yard manure is used. Some farmers mix lime with muck, but it is not so good as ashes for they are one of the best fertilizers there is, they seem to be the very thing the soil needs. Ashes will hold out the longest for grass of anything you can put on. If farmers should put as many ashes on their soil as there was when the land was cleared of its primitive growth, and it was burnt on the land, they would get as good crops as they did then Plaster on some soils is good, and pays a handsome profit, on the outlay, and on some soils it will not pay for putting it on the soil.

If you let the outside of the cask that contains plaster get wet, the plaster will not be near so good as it would be if kept dry A B. must try it on his soil, it may pay and it may not, but I am sure it will pay on potatoes, on any soil, either in the hill or on the potatoes, when they are cut to plant.

N. Ellsworth. D. F. MADDOCKS

HOW TO SAVE A DROWNING HORSE I would like to have you say to your readers that a drowning horse may be saved in most instances, where he has broken through the ice, by applying a halter or strap around his neck in the form of a slip noose, so as to choke him, when he will swell up, and rise nearly to the top of the water and in his struggles will try hard to regain his footing on the ice A strong pull may be necessary, and the rope should be immediately loosened, as soon as he is up If this should fail to bring him up a horse should be in readiness with a whipple-tree and rope to draw him out by the neck Having had a bit of experience in this line I feel like giving such information to others who may be as ignorant of a method to extricate a horse as I was, until Jacob Randall who has had quite an amount of experience in this line, shew me how well directed efforts would save a horse, when the case seemed hopeless. Could my horse speak, I think that he would call my friend Randall his preserver and thank Frank Jepson for his timely aid

—[Farmer

ASHES AS MANURE. Few farmers are aware of the value of wood ashes as manure, more especially as a top dressing for grass lands, and potatoes in the hill Five years ago last May I spread a barrel of leached ashes on a few square rods of run out grass land, and was astonished at the result, a thick coat of white clover, herds grass and red top started up the first season increasing the growth full four-fold where it was hardly worth mowing, and now the past season—the sixth time it has been mown since the ashes were spread—there was twice the growth there was before it was spread I have found it equally beneficial for potatoes in the hill, one handfull being equal to a shovelfull of barnyard manure. Potatoes free from rot which is not the case with manure; soil clay loam.

What has made Long Island with her comparatively barren soil the garden of New York, but ashes? Her farmers understand the true value of the article, and buy all they can get of their more improvident neighbor. Vessel loads are shipped from all parts of the country every year to enrich her farmers.

In my boyhood I had noticed the effects of ashes [illegible] in the clearing of new land, [illegible]

[illegible] we think it [illegible]. It ought to be applied every third or fourth year. It is the usual practice to scatter the salt broadcast, at the rate of four or five bushels to the acre, after the grain has been put in. Many farmers who have used it in this manner, have given their testimony that their crop of wheat has been greatly increased, and the crop of weeds, bugs and worms correspondingly diminished, If this is so, it is evident that salt performs two important offices, while ordinary manure performs but one. Many of our readers, doubtless, have a small pasture in which they keep a cow and occasionally turn a horse. Many of these pastures have coarse grasses growing in them, while in other places the grass dries up quickly on approach of warm and dry weather All such pastures will be greatly improved, and often the coarse grasses will entirely disappear if a harrow is passed freely over back and forth during this month, and salt at the rate of eight or ten bushels to the acre be spread over the ground

CLEANLINESS FOR PLANTS —If as much washing were bestowed upon pot-plants in rooms and greenhouses as some persons bestow on their horses, and especially some ladies give their lap-dog, the leaves, as well as the plants themselves, would remain in as good condition as the animals. The reasons are evident Plants breathe by their leaves, and if their surface is clogged by dirt of whatever kind their breathing, or inhaling and exhaling, is impeded or prevented. Plants perspire by their leaves, as we do through the pores of our skin and dirt prevents their perspiration. Plants feed by their leaves, and dirt prevents their feeding, so that breathing, perspiration and food are fatally interrupted by an accumulation of foreign matters upon leaves. Let any one, after reading this, cast an eye upon the state of plants in sitting rooms, or well kept greenhouses let them draw a white handkerchief over the surface of such plants, or a piece of smooth white leather, if they desire to know how far they they are from being as clean as their natures require.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES

Passed at the Second Session of the Forty first Congress

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No 1]

A RESOLUTION in relation to a site for a building for the State Department

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of War the Architect of the Capitol Extension the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, and the Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds be and they are hereby, appointed a commission to select a site for the erection of a building for a new State Department subject to the approval of Congress, to cause plans to be made for the same with an estimate of [the] probable cost thereof and to examine as to the propriety of making similar arrangements for the War Department Provided That the commission should reach the conclusion that the present site of that department is [illegible] suitable for the State Department and report to Congress on the first day of next session

Approved, December 14, 1869

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION No 6]

JOINT RESOLUTION of tribute to the memory of George Peabody, deceased

Whereas, in the death of George Peabody a native of the United States, and late a resident of England, our country and the world have sustained an irretrievable loss, and whereas the Queen of Great Britain, the authorities of London and the Emperor of France have made extraordinary provision for the transfer of his remains to his native land Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be authorized to make such preparation for the reception of the body of our distinguished philanthropist as is merited by his glorious deeds, and in a manner commensurate with the justice magnanimity, and dignity of a great people

And be it further resolved That the expense incurred by such ceremonial as the President may adopt in the premises shall be paid by any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated

Approved December 23 1869

[PUBLIC—No 1]

AN ACT to promote the reconstruction of the State of Georgia.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the governor of the State of Georgia be, and hereby is, authorized and directed forthwith, by proclamation to summon all persons elected to the general assembly of said State as appears by the proclamation of George G Meade the general commanding the military district including the State of Georgia, dated June twenty fifth eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, to appear on some day certain to be named in said proclamation at Atlanta in said State, and thereupon the said general assembly of said State shall proceed to perfect its organization in conformity with the Constitution and laws of the United States, according to the provisions of this act

SEC 2 And be it further enacted That when the members so selected to said senate and house of representatives shall be convened, as aforesaid each and every member and each and every person claiming to be elected as a member of said senate or house of representatives shall, in addition to taking the oath or oaths required by the constitution of Georgia also take and subscribe and file in the office of the secretary of state of the State of Georgia one of the following oaths or affirmations, namely I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I have never held the office or exercised the duties of a senator or representative in Congress nor been a member of the legislature of any State of the United States nor held any civil office created by law for the administration of any general law of a State or for the administration of justice in any State or under the laws of the United States nor held any office in the military or naval service of the United States and thereafter engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or gave aid or comfort to its enemies or rendered, except in consequence of direct physical force, any support or aid to any insurrection or rebellion against the United States nor held any office under, or given any support to any government of any kind organized or acting in hostility to the United States or levying war against the United States So help me God, (or on the pains and penalties of perjury, as the case may be) Or the following oath or affirmation, namely I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I have been relieved, by an act of the Congress of the United States from disability as provided for by section three of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States So help me God (or on the pains and penalties of perjury as the case may be)" Which oath or affirmation, when so filed shall be entered of record by the secretary of state of the State of Georgia, and said oath or affirmation or a copy of the record thereof duly certified by said secretary of state shall be evidence in all courts and places And every person claiming to be so elected, who shall refuse or decline or neglect or be unable to take one of said oaths or affirmations above provided, shall not be admitted to a seat in said senate or house of representatives or to a participation in the proceedings thereof but shall be deemed ineligible to such seats.

SEC 3 And be it further enacted That if any person claiming to be elected to said senate or house of representatives as aforesaid shall falsely take either of said oaths or affirmations above provided he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall suffer the pains and penalties thereof and may be tried convicted, and punished therefor by the circuit court of the United States for the district of Georgia in which district said crime was committed and the jurisdiction of said court shall be sole and exclusive for the purpose aforesaid

SEC 4 And be it further enacted That the persons elected as aforesaid and entitled to compose such legislature and who shall comply with the provisions of this act by taking one of the oaths or affirmations above prescribed, shall thereupon proceed in said senate and house of representatives to which they have been elected respectively to reorganize said senate and house of representatives, respectively by the election and qualification of the proper officers of each house

KIDNEY COMPLAINT

This most distressing disease is [illegible] prevalent within a few years and [illegible] destroyer of human happiness [illegible] human life It is not confined to old or middle aged but is quite as frequent among children and young people as any other class One of the most effectual remedies known for this dreadful complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment it has never failed as yet as we have abundant proof to show We refer with pleasure to the following letter from Hill [illegible] F Hutchins Esq a gentleman [illegible] well and thoroughly known [illegible] Fryeburg Oxford County, Me where he resides

MESSRS I S JOHNSON & CO

Dear Sirs —In the fall of 1856 I was attacked with a violent pain through my back and kidneys which laid me up for more than a year I consulted the best physicians in the county and [illegible] pronounced it kidney, some spinal disease After being under their treatment six or eight months, and receiving no particular benefit I was advised by a friend to try your liniment On taking part of a bottle, it brought away in my water something similar to the filings of steel which relieved me in part, and, by continuing to take it for three months or more I was completely cured I most heartily recommend it as the best family medicine I ever used With pleasure I send you the foregoing statement You can make such use of it as you deem proper

Respectfully yours

We cut the following statement some years ago —

FACTS WORTH KNOWING'—Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is superior to any other Liniment or Pain Killer in the world. It is equally efficacious, whether taken internally or or applied externally

It will cure Cough or Hoarseness
It will cure Whooping Cough
It will cure Influenza
It will cure Bronchitis
It is the best article that can be taken for Bleeding at the Lungs or Spitting of Blood
It will in most cases cure Croup
It will cure Chronic Diarrhœa
It will cure Dysentery of long standing
It [illegible] Bloody Dysentery
It will cure Lame Stomach
It will [illegible] Pain in the Stomach or Bowels
It is a sure cure for Kidney Complaints of recent [illegible] and will relieve those of long standing, it will also cure diseases of the Spine Also, from its great Cleansing and Healing properties, it is the best medicine that can be applied to a Fever Sore

It is the best outward application known for flesh wounds, sprains, bruises swollen or stiff joints

It stands upon its own merits, and is warranted to [illegible] medicine ever discovered

TWENTY FIVE YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

NEW GLASGOW, N S, Aug 1, 1862

This is to certify that I have been acquainted with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for twenty five years, during which time I have both sold and used it in my family I have no hesitation in saying I consider it an excellent family medicine I think it unequalled in Whooping Cough In recommending it, I am not only doing an act of justice, but, I feel confident, an act also of humanity

In using it for Coughs, I generally combine it with something to act on the liver and bowels (Parson's Purgative Pills)

PURGATIVE PILLS.

For the Cure of a great variety of Diseases, arising from the Impurities of the Blood, and Obstructions in the Organs of Digestion.

The only cathartic that will relieve the bowels, cleanse the blood and renovate the system effectually without causing those horrid griping pains, and leaving the bowels in that torpid, costive state, which is true of most cathartic medicines now offered for sale These Pills are not (like most others) composed of antimony, quinine, mercury, and calomel, but of cathartics used and approved by all good medical practitioners

These Pills may be used in all forms of disease, with the most decided benefit, and without fear of injury They do not cramp or rack the delicate frame or weak constitution, but will be found particularly useful by stimulating the weakened and distempered parts into healthy action

The most delicate female and children of the tenderest age can take these Pills with perfect safety and the most salutary results will follow Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find these a safe, and in small doses, a mild cathartic

They do not make the weak weaker, but give strength and tone to the digestive organs

ALL WHO NEED PHYSIC, TAKE P. P. PILLS.

If your system is in an unhealthy state two or three Parsons' Pills will bring it round all right

Parsons Pills are the best known remedy for Constipation of the Bowels Inflammation of the Kidneys, Nervous Headache Sick Headache, Irregularity, Costiveness, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Female Obstructions, Whites Influenza, Loss of Appetite, and Loss of Strength

FROM THE 'MAINE FARMER'

Parson's Purgative Pills are a safe wholesome, vegetable and natural medicine and may be relied upon as being the best Anti bilious Pill in existence

Let the reader reflect that Parson's Purgative Pills are now manufactured and sold by the proprietors of Johnson's Liniment, an article that has reached a larger sale and more extended popularity than any other medicine known, and any attempt on their part to build up a reputation for a worthless article would blast their reputation as compounders of medicine, and ruin their prospects, both in regard to the Liniment, and everything else for which they seek the favor of the public

Acting with this view, we have been scrupulously particular not to say any thing in favor of our medicines which the facts in the case do not warrant

PARSONS' PURGATIVE OR ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

Notwithstanding the great variety of Pills now in the country, a necessity has long been felt, and freely acknowledged both by physicians and families, for a safe and reliable Anti bilious Pill —something that should be free from mercury and every mineral or deleterious substance, and be really safe to administer to infants or the most delicate patient To meet this demand, Parson's Purgative Pills were compounded every property of which has been carefully analyzed by experiment and scientific investigation Thus they are believed by physicians and people wherever they are known, to be the safest, surest, and most desirable family pill in the country Notwithstanding they are so mild in their operation causing no griping pains, they are composed of powerful vegetable substances, and will be found to be sufficiently searching and active to cleanse out the obstructions in the most robust constitution Parson's Purgative Pills also have the best effect on the Liver of any medicine yet discovered, at the same time they help the Kidneys, relieve the Lungs, and cleanse the Blood of all impurities, also equalizing its circulation, thus preventing cold surface and limbs, or undue heat and congestion, either inside or out It is as plain as 2 and 2 are 4 that what is required in a family Pill is one that will reach will effect to produce proper excretion, and open all the natural drains Parson's Purgative Pills will do this with promptness and fidelity, and no physician's prescription could do more Many people suppose that the Bible declares money to be the root of all evil, but it is not so,—it is the love of it which is spoken of But don't love your money so as to keep you from buying a box of Parson's Purgative Pills when by so doing, you may avert much pain and lingering distress, and perhaps save a life Our advice is to keep them constantly on hand, as you may by their use break up fevers, or crop in the bud these symptoms which might otherwise result in long and weary sickness

CHAPPED HANDS —Rub them well at bed time with Anodyne Liniment, and wear leather or kid gloves during the night, for chapped lips, apply it with the finger

SHERIDAN'S
POWDERS
FOR Horses, Cattle and Sheep.

These Powders should be given in all cases of Appetite, Roughness of the Hair, Stoppage of the Bowels or Water, or thick Water, all Coughs and Colds, Swelling of the Glands of the Throat Worms, Horse Ail, Hide Bound, Thick Wind, and Heaves [illegible] are equally good for Diseases of Horned Cattle and Sheep

VALUABLE TESTIMONY

IN FAVOR OF SHERIDAN'S CAVALRY CONDITION POWDERS

We regard the following as the most valuable testimony which we have to produce to show the superiority of our Powders over all others and the necessity of giving them freely to horses that labor [illegible]

Our travelling agent called upon Messrs Pope & Co, lumber merchants Machias Me, and tried to sell them some of our Sheridan's Horse Powders, but they refused to buy them, stating that they did not believe that they were any good, and, secondly that they had some of another kind on hand, which they could neither use nor sell on account of their worthlessness. Our agent [illegible] it important that they should have them [illegible] that they employed a large number of horses [illegible] business) proposed to leave them three [illegible] with the understanding that they should [illegible] not entirely satisfied, they were [illegible] ing for them The Messrs Pope & Co [illegible] proposition, and took the Powders [illegible] months after, our agent again visited [illegible] they cheerfully paid for the three (3) dozen [illegible] and bought five (5) dozen [illegible] December following just twelve months from leaving the first three (3) dozen, on his return [illegible] the Provinces, our agent sold them eight more, making SIXTEEN (16) dozen sold them [illegible] cash, in just one year We avail ourselves [illegible] opportunity to publicly thank the Messrs Pope & Co for their generosity in permitting us the use of their names for certainly there are none more widely or favorably known, and none that would be more advantage to us in point of influence

AN HONEST DOUBTER CONVINCED

In February, 1866, our agent called upon Capt Charles Sager, who keeps the largest and best [illegible] of let horses in the city of Portland, Me [illegible] to sell him a sample dozen of our Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, but the captain [illegible] refused to buy, and would not even [illegible] trial, with the option to pay or not [illegible] remarking that he could make a Condition [illegible] himself that would answer his purpose [illegible] had some of another kind on hand, that [illegible] casionally So our agent contented himself [illegible] putting up a poster in his office, gave him [illegible] of the Powders, and departed Just [illegible] Capt Sager went to the City Hotel [illegible] and, without solicitation, bought [illegible] of the Cavalry Powders, and volunteered [illegible] his name, in any way that would [illegible] their field of usefulness

All who know Capt Sager and have [illegible] with him will unite with us in saying that [illegible] of the most candid reliable, and gentlemanly men in the State of Maine, and his opinion is well as on other subjects in any way with horses is entitled to great consideration

WHAT THEY ARE FOR

"Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" should be given to horses in all cases for loss of Appetite, Roughness of the Hair Stoppage of Bowels or Water or Thick Water, all Coughs and Colds, Swelling of the Throat, Worms, Horse ail, Hide bound Thick Wind, and Heaves They are equally good for diseases of horned cattle and sheep; young horses fitting for market may be greatly improved and very much enhanced in value by the use of these powders

Old horses, almost worn out and apparently valueless, may be rejuvenated, and made to do a considerable amount of service, by the use of the Cavalry Condition Powders" Most horses are subject to worms and while they exist in a horse he cannot thrive the food that should strengthen and [illegible] the animal is absorbed by the worms [illegible] horse will have a great appetite and [illegible] grow poor

SYMPTOMS —Hide bound, coat staring and glaring great appetite &c "Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" will positively relieve the worst cases

There is no man, or set of men, that can use the Powders in a horse, no matter how (apparently) [illegible] he may be, without admitting that the horse has been benefitted many times the value of the Powders given In support of the above statement we ask attention to the following —

The undersigned, having experienced great benefits resulting from a frequent use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders' for horses, [illegible] permit the use of their names in recommending them to be (in their opinion) the best thing [illegible] kind now in the market

FROM THE HON JOSEPH FARWELL, MAYOR OF THE CITY OF ROCKLAND

In July, 1865 our agent met with the Hon Farwell at the Eastern Hotel Machias Me on his way to Pembroke He remarked that his horse had not been well during the day, and he feared he was signs of giving out. In the evening the horse was much worse, and showed symptoms [illegible] page of water, our agent gave Mr Farwell a package of our Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders He gave the horse a good dose that night, the next morning he departed with his horse apparently well. We heard no more of the matter till the following May, when our agent met Mr Farwell at his home in the city of Rockland, Me who remarked that the Powders he had received had done his horse a great deal of good that he had used them frequently since, and always with gratifying results, and that he regarded them as the best Condition Powder in the country, and very kindly said if his name would be of any service to us we might use it. Mr. Farwell's address is Rockland Me and for a verification of the foregoing plain statement of facts, any person is at liberty to write him.
